

Please bring balance to the Sinclair decision to air "Stolen Honor" during this election period. This is so clearly a last-minute documentary aimed at degrading the personal reputation of an individual. Why aren't they forced to show both sides of the story? Why do we have to provide public airwaves to help promote this smear campaign so clearly a regular tactic of the Bush team? We count on the FCC to be our watchguards to protect us from such blatant manipulation of the media. Please help make this a legitimate election process and at least let's see both sides from Sinclair. Thank you.
